EXAMINES PATHS IN THE FUTURE OF PSYCHOLOGY

1. UNIVERSALITY OF THE ROMANTIC SELF

The key theme that I believe will bear fruit in the future of Psychology is a deeper understanding of the Romantic Self. I am most familiar with English Romanticism, and know less about German Romanticism. Some of the questions are familiar to Positive Psychology leaders like Robert A. Emmons. But their answers will not be found by the sorts of methods employed by Psychologists.

The answers will be found from the Archaeological Excavation of the English Romantic poetry, psychology and philosophy. I had chosen M. H. Abrams and Stanley Corngold's criticism as a guide.

The crucial question is whether the Romantic Self has universal features that could substantially improve the lives of all people of Earth, whether Self-development can be regularised sufficiently to produce healthy virtuous people in a clear culture-independent manner.

The questions are older, and Wolfgang Von Goethe had addressed these along with other European luminaries. There needs to be a renewed understanding that is sharper and more nuanced and accurate versus Nature. The entire adventure of Psychology with focus on negative aspects has been subject of criticism of Martin Seligman and others who pioneered Positive Psychology, and those are valid.

I sense great treasures in English Romanticism for a revolution that never completed, was overshadowed by dingy realism with rise of industrialism. We saw resonances from this dying of the light with Modernism, peaks achieved by The Waste Land of T. S. Eliot and Duino Elegies of Rainer Maria Rilke, and also Sanchita of Kazi Nazrul Islam which is not as well known in America.

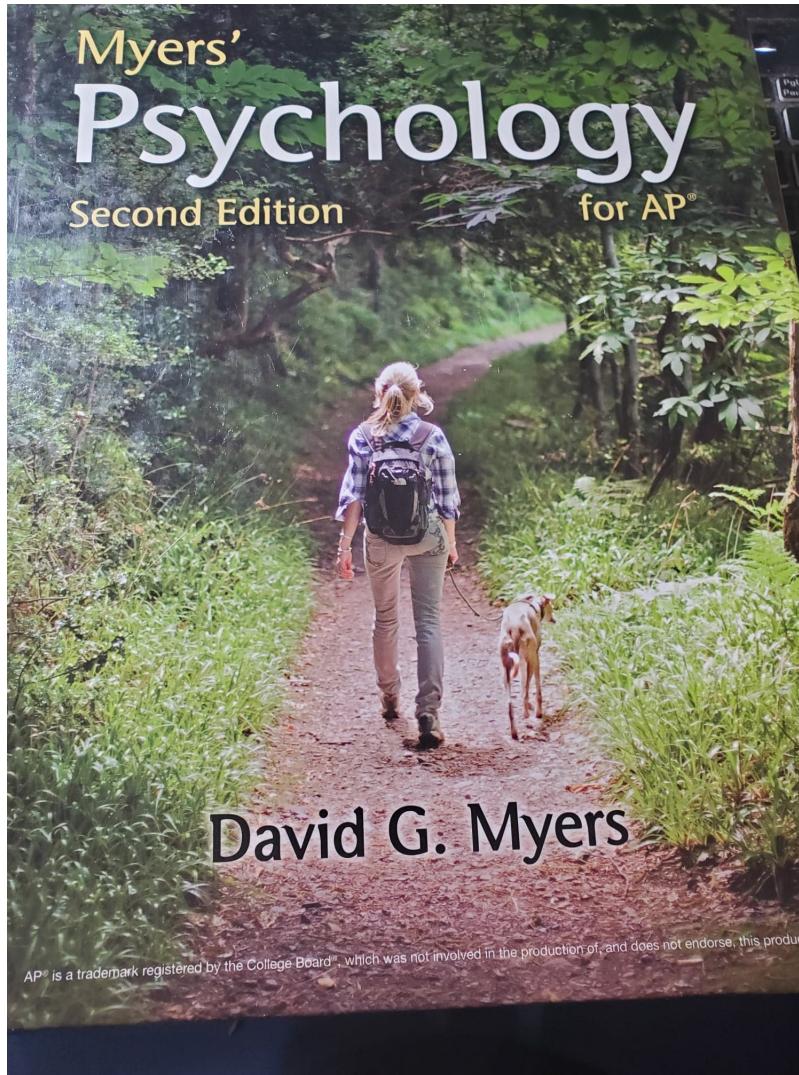

After Psychology finds its stronger foundation, there are greater heights for its development, as this is still in many ways a Pre-Scientific Age for Psychology, and the glorious fruits of the effort will be felt strongly in around two centuries.

2. HOW CHARMING OF RALPH WALDO EMERSON

"There is not yet any inventory of man's faculties, any more than a bible of his opinions. Who shall set a limit to the influence of a human being? There are men who, by their sympathetic attractions carry nations with them, and lead the activity of the human race." (Emerson, "Power")

That's so sweet. That's true certainly for myself. You are quite right about this. I, by my sympathetic attractions, do lead the activity of the human race. That's so charming, I am touched, Ralph Waldo Emerson, you shouldn't have!

3. AP PSYCHOLOGY BOOKS ARRIVE

Today, March 19 2022, my AP Psychology books arrived. My bachelors and masters work was in Mathematics, and I have some great milestone results on Universal Human Moral Nature with ethnicity accounting for 6.5-9.5% of the variation and Aristotle's Virtue-Eudaimonia Theory vindicated on global data from World Values Survey. I am not deprived of a great Princeton Education.

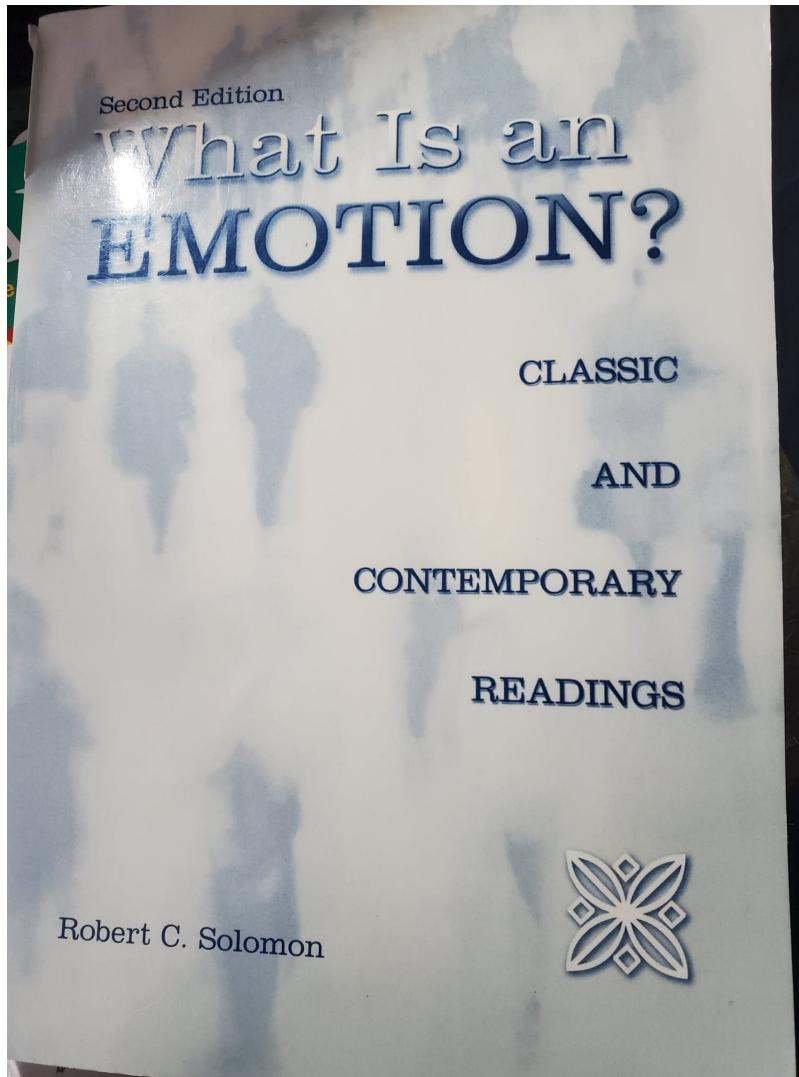

But Psychology is a recent interest, and I am genuinely interested in it. AP Psychology is very good idea because I am familiar with the breadth and standardisation from high school 1987-1991 where I had many 5 on Physics C and Calculus BC and Chemistry. For Natural Science of Man, I have some good directions already with some fundamental laws of emotions.

Psychology is still in a prescientific moment and there is no Final Theory of Man. Broad exposure is good here.

The other books that arrived are here.

MARCH 18 2022 3:23 PM ZULFIKAR MOINUDDIN AHMED EXAMINES PATHS IN THE FUTURE OF PSYCHOLOGY

I feel that I have a resolution for emotions already, so my concern had turned to motivated habituation and intuitions for all human beings.

I want to express to all psychologists that it does not embarrass me at all to examine the AP level Psychology. It is a good level, and I do not feel like I am denigrating myself. Those things would be more of an issue in Physics or Chemistry. Psychology is not developed enough that there is not substance at the broad spectrum level. I do not believe that there is a unified reasonable Standard Theory in Psychology at all yet. Indeed, I feel that I am the Last Prophet of Psychology. For those who do not know, this is the moniker of Muhammad that he was the Last Prophet of God. The religion succeeded. I am not Muslim, but my mom and aunt are religious Muslims, and I am impressed by success of Islam. It has 1.5 billion adherents to 2 billion of Christianity. These are impressive successes. Perhaps my success as Last Prophet of Psychology will compete one day.

4. IRRATIONAL OPTIMISM OF ZULF

I was thinking about it some days ago. Bill Gate totally emptied out my Deep Interior and I will suffer and die with high probability for the horrible crimes of Bill Gates, and the complicity of my own government in his crimes. On one hand, optimism that Harvard, Stanford, Oxford and Cambridge will actually deliver a positive future for me in America, despite my tenure-worthiness and experience, and clear superiority in genius to Bill Gates types seems unwarranted but I am still optimistic because it is actually irrational to take these things too seriously. I will shuffle off this mortal coil and this world will not see me for at least another thousand years. I do not see why I ought to give such regard to Bill Gates or United States Government. My existence on Earth is more important than both. Optimism is rational here, not irrational. In fact, neither Bill Gates, nor, indeed, United States of America matter beyond reasonable demands from me. Unless United States Government delivers my natural rights, I don't really give a damn if the United States of America is a nation or a type of spaghetti. I have more important things to do than babysit miserably incompetent little nation states.

5. IMPORTANCE OF CREATIVE IMAGINATION AND DREAMS

The importance of Creative Imagination for Psychology and of Dreams have both been examined by particular great men. The English Romantics had explored Creative Imagination, and Carl Gustav Jung Dreams, with some interesting outcomes. There needs to be a reconciliation of these efforts in a natural science of Psychology for the future.

The sprawl of Psychology is part of the progress of science that is far from maturity. I think the most important constraint we have today that never existed in the past 2500 years since Socrates, Plato and Aristotle is that we have no doubts about existence of Universal Human Psychology. This might be enough to produce a strong natural science that is coherent and parsimonious.

6. MY CHESS RATING AT 1473

I am resigned to improving my chess game slowly. I was reading Lasker's Manual of chess. He was not sure that chess was invented in India but he knew that it was the pastime of refined aristocrats. Now I must confess, that while I am from a noble lineage of several thousand years, I did not grow up playing chess. But this is good to hear. If an Asian noble will be horribly murdered by this peasant-born low criminal Bill Gates, there is a certain melancholic pathos to improve the chess game before perishing under Bill Gates and his horribly corrupt cronies in the United States Government. I will admit, however, that I am not really going to be a zealous chess player. More important to me is literature. There I found solace for many decades, and now even my private inner life is horribly disrupted due to the illegitimate corrupt sham government of the United States of America.

7. THE TABULA RASA REVIVED

The mind as tabula rasa of John Locke has been a great target of Steven Pinker and the cognitive psychologists. I want to revive a modified tabula rasa. I want to name my revision Textured Tabula Rasa. The idea that I have is that yes, there are evolutionary adaptations of five million years so that the mind at birth is not exactly a tabula rasa. We know from 2008 neuroscientists that moral praise or blame have circuits, and I was myself responsible for the original discovery of Universal Human Moral Nature.

Regardless, the mind is still a Textured Tabula Rasa and this is a logical operation. I think the contemporary scientists are too attracted to a biological determinism that is not true to nature. All intuition is determined by experience, for example.

8. AGAINST ARROGANCE OF SCIENTISM

I have profound admiration for nature and have an awe for the mysteries of nature. In fact I am an immortal genius in natural science. But I am not impressed with the arrogance of science that crosses far past its limits and attempts to encroach on individual life.

What do I mean by this. I was an atheist for many years 1979-2008. And I have found my faith afterward. God who is power to move all things is silent and inscrutable in my faith. This would seem stark and austere to Christians and Muslims, but there are many things of heaven and Earth in which I do have faith. Most of these are things that I do not put into my science.

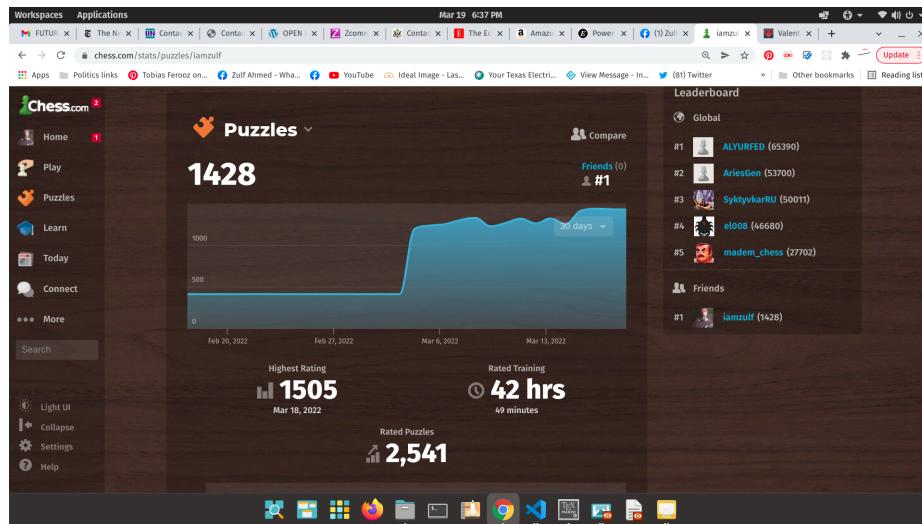

You see, Science is powerful; it is one part of Truth. I am a scientist even without any Ph.D. and I am very talented as a scientist. On the other hand, we live once from cradle to grave and in this one life, the constant shifting waters of science is not firm enough to have faith. And that is the problem with many people like Richard Dawkins who do not offer enough and demand that people have faith in their understanding. What is there worth having faith in? Good theories are great. I want them too. But faith is a different matter altogether. One's eternal soul is at stake. Current science will say, "Well there is no eternal soul." I don't even waste my time with a condescending laugh and hide my pity for these lost souls.

9. MY RELIGION IS FINE WITH HALF A BILLION YEARS OF EVOLUTION

I will repeat that my faith is that I am an Archangel of Heaven. It does not change that I inherited from my wonderful two biological parents human DNA that evolved for half a billion years including 8 million years separated from chimpanzees. Those things are true, but I am still an Archangel Soul that has existed for billions of years before my current life and will after I perish exist for billions more. There is no contradiction that I detect in the two. Genes do not determine many things about me. They determine many other things. It's not worrisome to me.

10. MY CHESS RATING GOES DOWN TO 1428

My brother wanted to share with me today, after years, after silence in the same room, as it has already been some years that my uncle has died. He said he felt emptied out as members of our family died. He said that I was the strangest person he had ever come across. He spoke of loss of faith in Christian God, of some other things. I wish I could be a better brother but I am fighting with destruction efforts of Bill Gates. I ended with telling him to read David Deida's The Way Of the Superior Man and to pay attention to "Do what you always wanted to do right now."

You see, what I always wanted to do is becoming clearer. What I always wanted to do, my greatest dreams, are being formed, in the desire to uplift the Life Satisfaction of my beloved people, the Human Race.

I need Harvard or Stanford, Oxford, Cambridge to arrange things for me. I need $80 million for 40% of Thyself Inc. I want a tenured professorship. I want a nice pad in Mission District San Francisco. I believe I have proven myself and my potential and the realisability of my great dreams adequately.

And then, there is Psychology, which I will learn in different ways. I am a Scientific Revolutionary, now with grey and white hair at 50, quite unspeakably damaged in with total destruction of my Deep Interior by Bill Gates – with complicity of the government of my own country the United States of America, my American Dream is devastated as I could have gotten back on my feet with $120 million from David E. Shaw. But this malevolent malignant evil rotten Cunt, this inferior low type lifelong charlatan and pathological liar of low intellect, this Bill Gates got between myself and my happiness, right in front of everyone. I will convert that into my Natural Rights World Order. I shall do a bit more for my family, my bedridden mother, and my hysterical aunt, and recover my honour still. I, Zulfikar Moinuddin

Ahmed, am still alive, and the Hope of the Human Race will live. Liberty shall not die so easily. The Evil Bill Gates shall be vanquished.

11. THE SHAME OF AN ARCHANGEL

I believe I am an Archangel of Heaven, and in conflict with a Demon, not figuratively but literally. I could die any day now, and isolated physically in Allen Texas, far from my urban professional habitat, without progeny, with a sick and dying mother bedridden and unable to move far away. I have responsibilities in the end only to my Conscience, of whether I leave behind some gifts of Heaven on this world before I perish.

It's not as bad as could have been. It could have been that Four-Sphere Theory and Universal Human Moral nature were not good results, were not true. I am afforded some dignity for these gifts. I had slightly more ambitious plans beyond the spectrum of Virtues beyond moral ones to Romantic Love that I gifted my beloved people the Human Race. At least they have from me the virtues they need for some autonomy in managing their own life satisfaction. Other Archangels of Heaven, they will not denigrate and mock me for another billion years for failures on Earth beyond tolerance. I better send that note to Harvard, Oxford, Stanford again. Yes, a rather paranoid Archangel of Heaven. I had not foreseen a Demon on this world to my embarrassment. And so I have to move fast, take some measures.

Rest assured Human Race, that we, the Archangels of Heaven, are rather better at engaging the enemy. We and the Demons have warred for billions of years across the galaxies. This malevolent Demon, who goes by the name of Bill Gates is not the most dangerous Demon in the universe, but he might be the most uncouth and disgusting. Usually Demons who want to enslave and rule an Angelic Race such as humans are rather more cultivated. This one walks around in public with fecal matter in a jar.

I'm 50 in Earth life but I am billions of years old in truth. The minions of this Demon in the United States Government were a surprise. I was not expecting to be betrayed by the American Government in this way either. But to be an Archangel means to have to cope with these sorts of unexpected events. I will admit that I was simply not prepared for the discovery of a Demon on Earth at all.

12. WHY DO I WANT LIFE SATISFACTION OF ALL PEOPLE ON EARTH TO INCREASE?

Look, I am an Archangel and this world is a Primitive Angelic World. Life Satisfaction is woefully inadequate on Earth. Heaven, which I can represent, does not like this at all. It's worthwhile increasing for the entire world and this is feasible. It's also an interesting challenge to do this by Quantitative Positive Psychology. The Demon Bill Gates will pretend and pathologically lie about his philanthropy while having Dystopian plans to enslave and rule the human population as a horrific Conscience-less tyrant. That's what Demons do. But why would an Archangel choose something else when all other Archangels would think this is an admirable thing and respect me more? There is no better motivation. What will motivate me? Money is not enough. I was already hobo. Money is not naturally attractive. It would make my life hollow and empty me out without the Demon Bill Gates doing it in meta, destroy my Deep Interior and savagely and brutally destroy and vandalise it with white racial supremacy slogans.

In a way, the decision would not require any explanation at all, but Human Race is Angel-ic and not an Elder Race of Angels. So it is worth pointing out that raising the Life Satisfaction of the entire eight billion Human Race is what's called a good in itself; it is good intrinsically.

The Demon Bill Gates is deceptive. He will tell you that white people's happiness depends on misery of black people. This is false; the correlation of English white and black happiness changes year-on-year is 23%. It's positive. It's not a zero-sum game.

13. SIMPLE CORRELATION OF BLACK-WHITE HAPPINESS CHANGES

	Year	X2013	X2014	X2015	X2016	X2017	X2018
1	All	0.06	0.07	0.04	0.01	0.04	0.01
2	Bangladeshi	0.26	0.01	-0.13	0.13	-0.07	0.14
3	Chinese	0.10	0.00	0.08	-0.05	-0.21	0.20
4	Indian	0.05	0.05	0.10	0.06	0.05	-0.13
5	Pakistani	0.02	0.21	0.14	-0.03	0.01	0.06
6	Asian other	0.06	0.07	0.03	0.08	0.12	0.04
7	Black	0.13	0.17	-0.02	0.05	-0.02	0.18
8	Mixed	0.21	-0.25	0.22	0.16	-0.16	0.11
9	White	0.06	0.07	0.03	0.01	0.04	0.01
10	Arab	0.06	0.21	0.03	0.23	-0.28	0.05
11	Other	0.10	0.24	0.00	0.19	-0.06	0.00

The data goes from 2013-2018 and are changes in level from previous year. The correlation of White and Black happiness is 23.1% just from a spreadsheet. The point here of course is not a sophisticated analysis but to get some sense for truth. The sort of lie that Bill Gates propagates to white people, that white people's happiness is negatively correlated with black people's happiness, is malevolent and total disinformation.

The data are reliable from United Kingdom Government [1]. No one doctored any data here. You can easily reproduce the correlation. This is an important fact about the world that needs to be clear to all peoples of the world. Happiness is not a zero sum game across ethnicities. You will not be happier because someone else is more miserable of another ethnicity.

14. HEAVEN'S PERSPECTIVE

First of all these are issues of my faith, and they could be interpreted as personal opinion if you like, without offending me at all. I have the authority to represent Heaven's views, although I will not be interested in being any spokesman for Heaven generally.

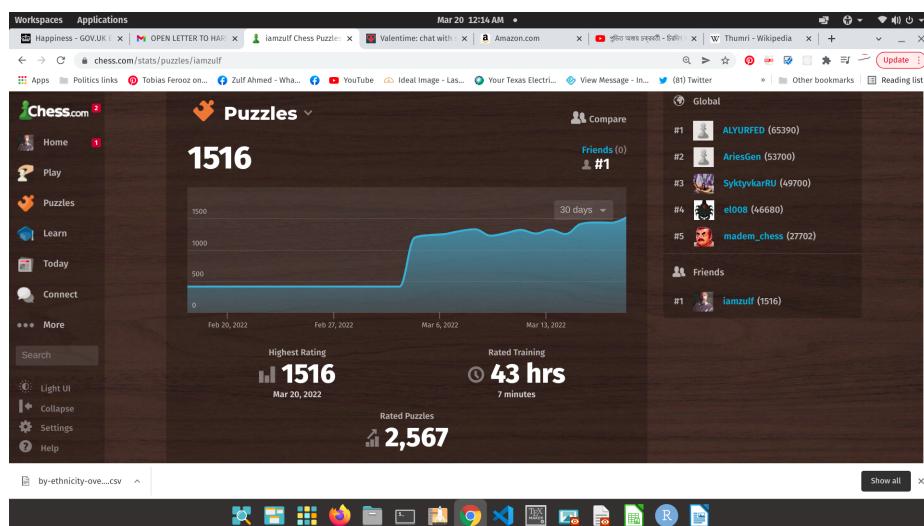

Heaven holds that the Human Race is an Angelic Race and a Single Race. Heaven does not have any preference for some versus others of Human Beings based on ethnicity, language, and religion. Heaven does not believe there is substance in various ethnicity and cultural differences because, you see, Heaven serves millions of worlds. Ethnic differences and national boundaries on Earth is too nitty gritty for Heaven. Heaven prefers well-being and happiness and life satisfaction is good for Human Race.

15. THE LOVE OF AJOY CHAKRABORTI THUMRI

Thumri is a genre of Indian classical vocal music that had happened to have caught me by surprise sometime in 2005-6. [2]. I was looking for a very special Thumri "Jiya Nahin Manat Mora Re" which opened such floodgates of emotions once upon a time that I was in trance for days. Pandit Ajoy Chakrabarti was the singer. I found another Thumri by him [3].

This is a blatant effort to influence tenure and funding decision by Harvard and other universities by adding totally irrelevant things.

16. MY CHESS RATING REACHES 1516

That's a relief, at least I can fanagle a rating above 1500 in Chess.com Puzzles. I am totally convinced now that Motivated Habituation does affect skills at some variation of a power law, and also that intuition changes in the process. I was having such a hard time two weeks ago and now some puzzles are easier.

I believe very strongly that I can sharpen some of my insights and revolutionise Psychology and simultaneously begin the process of setting up institutions that can impact global Life Satisfaction levels eventually. It all has to start somewhere. It's never quick and easy. Dedication and satisfaction in progress are both key to success. It will be impossible to get anywhere if Harvard, Stanford, Oxford, and Cambridge decide to back me, but there is no Motivated Habituation towards a great goal that is not financial but loftier, more pure science and more pure service for humanity, for the pleasure of their own sake, for the sake of being sure that something truly great awaits, something new, something so revolutionary that it made intelligent well-adjusted people cackle at mockery and laughter at our outrageous absurd ideas.

And then totally ignore the nay-sayers and the mocking disbelievers without worry. That's the sort of thing that is appealing for me. Financial incentives, small competitive drives, the things that are dime a dozen no longer interest us. We want to do things that no one dares imagine possible, and we shall endure the mirth and mockery.

17. COMPANY STRUCTURE PLANS

I have been planning to expand two companies in Mission District San Francisco. One of them will be staffed by technology engineers. This company will manage Meteor app delivery reliably to eight billion people and oversee a private cluster of several thousand servers. This requires top technology talent but is not unorthodox.

Thyself Inc. will be staffed with (a) Positive Psychology experts with research experience (b) Statisticians and data analysts. They will use special software we will custom design for creating questionnaire-based apps without coding skills and have tools for massive data analysis. These will be Quant Positive Psychologists and they will be responsible for delivery of Life Satisfaction increases in the actual world. The collaboration of the two companies will be seamless.

Those are some of the structural ideas. I have plans to produce world class work environments, Google/Goldman scale compensation schemes, 15% revenue sharing for employees, and I need HSOC (Harvard, Stanford, Oxford, Cambridge) to assist in other details.

I want companies for life, and I want every single person who comes on board to have job security and feel that they work for the best companies in the entire world.
