ASSESSES HABITUATION AS THE MOST NONTRIVIAL PART OF HUMAN SCIENCES

ZULFIKAR MOINUDDIN AHMED
ZULFIKAR.AHMED@GMAIL.COM

I just ordered Wendy Wood's book on habits. It is abundantly clear to me right now that the following is true.

- Aristotle's observation that habituation is necessary for Virtuous Character is true and very deep
- There will never be a successful natural science of Man without deep understanding of habituation universally

Just as Aristotle mentions explicitly, Virtues arise not from nature, i.e. from natural genetic endowment, but from habituation. And the natural phenomena is extremely difficult, subtle, and deep.

Habituation is the glue that holds together biology and natural endowment from genetic heritage that all of us are born with to the entire social world at all levels.

The phenomena of human life requires a deep scientific understanding of habituation. Just as emotions are the life of individuals within and not just the particular ones for which words exist, habituation is a deep natural process whose expression is a bulk of what human life is across the globe.

Habituation is difficult to study scientifically because we are accustomed to particular non-scientific points of view that are difficult to evade as all of culture in every part of the world demand conformity to particular ways of seeing the world, and it is unfortunately the case that none of them are actually compatible with the way of seeing the world that will produce superior natural science.

Unfortunately, study of habits is extremely underdeveloped, so primitive that the phenomena is just addressed superficially thus far. This is not the fault of the psychologists who are addressing them, but simply the situation of development of psychology and social sciences. These are very young sciences, barely a century old really.

And so I will emphasize and re-emphasize that these are open frontiers where the nearest forests are not explored yet. An entire natural science remains open to exploration and discovery with great opportunities.

This area requires serious effort to transform from primitive ideas, notions that are essentially barely better than the common sense of a fifteen year old person, to deep precise natural science with nontrivial knowledge.

Without universal level understanding of habituation, which is still completely unknown, social science, social psychology, will remain amateurish and without solid ground.

Note that there is only natural science; the distinction between natural science and social science today is almost like an excuse not to do science. There ought be no difference, but there is because there is a missing solid ground for so-called social sciences.

1. UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT ARE YOU SERIOUS ABOUT THIS?

You, United States Government, will refuse to totally destroy this Bill Gates when he had invaded my deep interior with US War Power and US Industrial Power and harmed my body, and I am the greatest scientific genius that this world has ever produced, and I have given humanity the Final Laws of Physics that Albert Einstein and Erwin Schrödinger never dreamed about, and I have overthrown Big Bang and Gravity altogether? And I have shown the world the Universal Human Moral Nature, and I have United States Permanent Residency from 1996 and I adhere to universal natural rights and followed United States Republic Laws, and you will betray me? Are you sure you want to do that?

2. EXERCISES IN HABITUATION

I have been playing Starcraft II for about a year now regularly. It is not so valuable to say "I am good" or "I am bad" at it because it is more fair to say that I have a particular level that I have reached. This level is just at the edge of "AI Harder". I will share with you a game I just completed [1]. You will need to have Starcraft II installed to watch the replay.

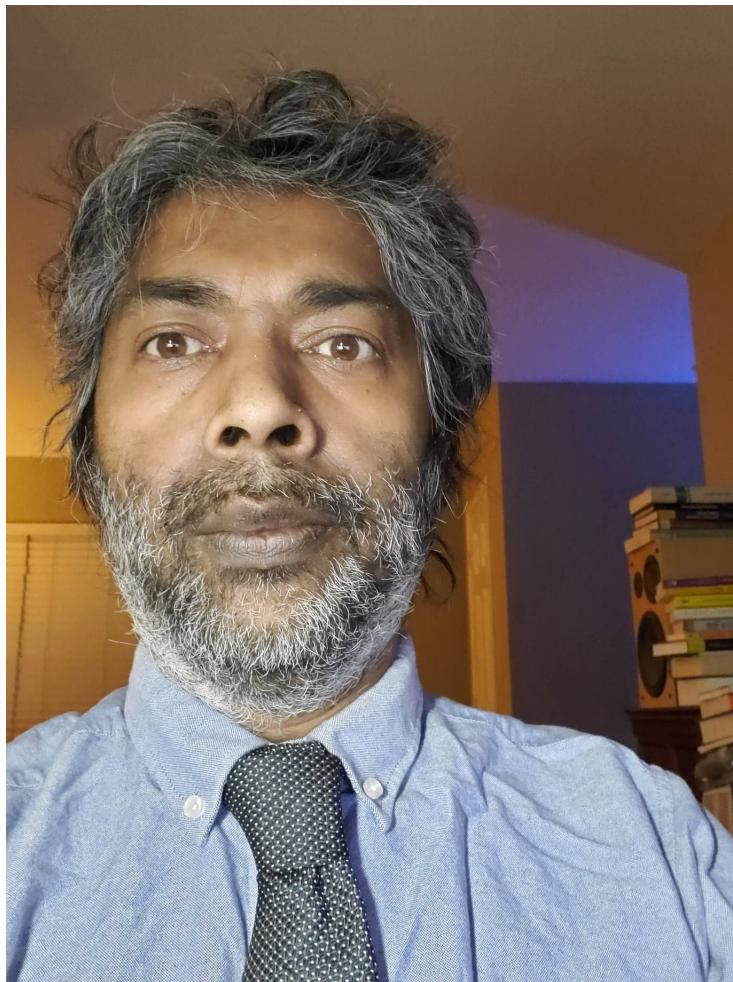

As you can see in the game I have a reasonable level of proficiency, and I did win in 15 minutes. This level was not attained quickly but I have been steady at being able to win against Harder AI but not being able to win against Very Hard for some months.

This level is reached by Habituation. Habituation is one of the most important nontrivial psychological features of human beings. Habituation is mostly latent and not a matter of cognitive thought. Repeated efforts, i.e. practice, at doing various sorts things over a long period of time allows human beings to improve their ability on various things.

I believe that Habituation of the Human Being is the most delicate and sophisticated and the most difficult aspects for the purpose of a natural science of the Human Race, a Science of Man and Human Science. This remains the greatest challenge for a Science of Man.

3. PURPOSE AND CALLING

Jasmine Sackey, from Life Path dropped by to say to check up on me because she was in the neighbourhood, she said, and I told her about the work I had done on laws of Human Emotions I had discovered recently. I am still waiting for Stanford and Harvard to offer me tenure for my great achievements in natural sciences. I am still on disability income, and around $620 million owed to me from great work in Medium Frequency Alpha Strategy, on which D. E. Shaw & Co. has $6 billion invested right now, is denied to me because of obsession of Bill Gates that I should not receive fair compensation for my own hard work over years because I am not white.

That the hick illiterate charlatan miserable wretched worthless scum without a modicum of actual intellectual merit whose taste and cultivation is literally worse than any pizza delivery high school dropout from podunk boondocks of northwest frontiers whose garish gaudy ostentation of Xanadu 2.0 is a monstrous obscenity in a nation with half a million homeless people is not that surprising, but what is surprising is the horrible way in which my own government, the United States Government treats this literal war criminal as though he were an asset rather than a shameful liability for America.

What my purpose in life is most definitely not is to be his victim of war crimes. I have proposed a Natural Rights World Order at the United Nations directly as a response because 80 percent of the world's people, and more than 90 percent of my fellow Americans strongly believe in natural rights security.

What I was telling Jasmine is that over the years after graduating from Princeton, I slowly realised that my actual talents are in natural sciences more than pure mathematics, and that is why I was able to deliver some of the first natural laws of human emotions in the past week.

Beyond habituation, there are more sophisticated questions we all ask for our lives. We ask for meaning in our lives, we seek our true purpose in existence. It was a long process for me to gain clarity regarding who my people were, and an epiphany when I realised one day that my beloved people, my own people, were the entire human race and not some tribe or nation but all people. I am not a universalist, do not have deep convictions regarding the absolute necessity for security of natural rights of all people everywhere on Earth just by arbitrary preference, but from the deepest sources of my soul. I believe this is the only right path, and there is no other right path for the world. I believe that no nation has any right to violate natural rights of any people anywhere on Earth even to defend itself. And I believe that even United States of America does not have the right to exist if it fails to secure the natural rights of 330 million Americans and have no right to violate natural rights of anyone on Earth at all. These are more than political convictions for me. They are part of my purpose of existence, beyond natural scientific advances, to bright enlightenment and knowledge to my beloved people.

I want to retrace my life from early years to give you a sense of how this occurred, how this conviction developed historically in my life between 1973 and today. I remember taking a strong view against all adults at around six years of age. My beloved late maternal grandmother, her name was Gini. I'll show her picture with my maternal grandfather to you so you can get a sense of the reality here.

These are my maternal grandparents. He was a successful electrical engineer, and she was among other things a published poet. Her poetry was Bengali. My parents were having marital troubles, and my mother would leave myself and my younger brother with her. I dearly loved this woman, and she put up with so much from me when I was little. I once brought home a small chick barely born, and I have warm memories of the chick, named "Pia", becoming part of the household. She would have breakfast in a large dining table and read the newspaper, and Pia learned that she was a friendly person and would cozily sit on her sandalled feet to soak in the sunlight dozing off with fluffy feathers. She was devoutly Muslim. In any case when I was six, in 1979, that is when I became atheist, against her protests, and never looked back at all. So many years have passed since she died. The loss to me personally from her death and that of my father by 2002 was devastating. My revelation, that all people were my beloved people came in a loft in Brooklyn, Williamsburg, in 2008, and reading Eliot's The Waste Land. I was not so young when I had this realisation. Suddenly the world changed deep within my soul. And how many years did it take? I was 35 when I fully grasped the truth, that the entire human race was my beloved people. I was not in the know of work till later showing that biological race was fiction. That I had to study, first with Sewall Wright's measures of genetic difference in population, by 2012 shown to have only 3-7% variation across continents. But also the genetic code in common  $G_c$  exactly identical letters for all human beings and constituting 99.9% of every genetic code of every person.

This discovery, that the human race is actually a single race was profound for me, and after four-sphere theory was in good shape—this was closer to 2016 when I was stranded in Allen Texas with an abusive aunt—and I had more than enough empirical work done, I began to study various aspects of human beings more seriously. This led to one of the greatest of my discoveries, that of Universal Human Moral Nature. This was such an astounding discovery that even I myself was completely astounded by it. Neither Immanuel Kant nor Friedrich Nietzsche, both of who were brilliant geniuses who spent a great deal of their lives thinking about human morality, had any idea of it.

In a sense the fundamental reason for my discovery was precisely that I had accepted in 2008 that all human beings are my beloved people. One day in the future, this sense, that all human beings are our people, will be commonplace and without controversy, as clear to all people of Earth as the sky is blue and sun rises in the East. But I was a pioneer, for it is not yet fully understood. Today, we still live in a tribal world. Today some people—admittedly deranged and vile and far from the civilised norms—like Bill Gates is still in a surreptitious war to destroy all non-white people and I was ensnared in his horrible disgusting evil genocidal war conducted in power by horrible means as he has found various ways to exercise power to harm people's Deep Interior with illegitimate and totally evil and malevolent use of US War Power and US Industrial Power without being detected by any but the highest folks in United States Government and United Nations. He has devastated my life by systematic malevolent evil illegitimate use of power. But this is not the purpose of my life at all.

My American Dream has been destroyed by this Bill Gates, as I had worked for some years on new directions in Finance, and D. E. Shaw is making money from my work, is willing to compensate me for $120 million but Bill Gates forbade them. Bill Gates himself has $2 billion in my work and the profits are good. But he is attempting to establish the principle that non-white people's work can be used without compensation in the country.

It is a shameful and horribly corrupt government of these United States of America that refused to destroy him the moment he breached my Blood Meta with criminal destructive intent, and that was almost a year ago. India, in meta, let United States Government know, but there was no enthusiasm to destroy him.

My American papers are legitimate, and I have a business registered that Bill Gates had prevented from expansion by invading into my Blood Meta and destroying elements of my Deep Interior, these things being War Crimes worthy of death penalty, and United Nations Human Rights Council considers have not yet led to a proper resolution. Bill Gates is still free to cause mayhem with his plans for genocide of non-white Americans with great enthusiasm, with his signature behaviour of pathological lying in public statements pretending to be philanthropic.

Anyway, I really don't give a damn about Bill Gates personally. I am an infinitely greater asset not just to America but the world than him. It is he who had decided that he will obsessively destroy me and because I was vulnerable, not having pursued wealth for about a decade, working on four-sphere theory and rethinking what I ought to do with the remaining part of my life, he decided that people will not give a damn about what harm he does to me because he was white and wealthy, and so obsessively harmed me with illegitimate exercise of power for more than a year. It seems that he was right to a great extent as the United States Government knew that he was committing War Crimes in my Deep Interior, destroy my career and American Dream, and he still had enough corrupt cronies high in United States Government to continue with impunity. But of course this cannot continue forever, and I have written to the United Nations Secretary-General that there should be a delegitimisation of the entire United States of America if the United States Government is found to have colluded in the War Crimes by Bill Gates against myself. I am Zulfikar Moinuddin Ahmed, immortal genius who gave the world the Final Laws of Physics, showed the world Universal Human Moral Nature empirically, and most recently the first laws of Human Emotions with empirical data. Bill Gates has never done anything but lie, murder, seek power, and sell third rate software while plotting non-white genocide in America all his life while pretending to be a philanthropist, and add to this his absolutely disgusting habit of walking around with human feces in a jar in public appearances and there is no doubt that I am an infinitely better American than he can hope to be.

4. PURPOSE VERSUS POLITICAL VALUES ON UNIVERSAL HUMAN RIGHTS

I have an opportunity to examine convergence of political and personal ideals that I have great convictions versus the American population generally.

"In the June–July 2002 poll, 47% of Americans rated the human rights goal as "very important" and an additional 43% rated it as "somewhat important" (ChicagoCouncil on Foreign Relations 2002)." [2] The context of McFarland-Matthews is a poll on United States Foreign Policy priorities. My viewpoint is much more fundamental that United States Foreign Policy priorities. I see natural rights of individuals as being sacrosanct prior to any nation's existence including the United States of America. This is why I am extremely close personally in my deepest convictions about the world with the Preamble of US Declaration Of Independence. I know, with 100% certainty today that there were no hijackers in any of the planes of September 11 2001, and that it was an orchestration of Israel's Mossad, with the strategic purpose of trigger war plans that existed prior to September 11 2001 events in Washington, formulated by neoconservative strategists including Richard Perle and others in Project For a New American Century who had plans for pre-emptive regime change wars in seven countries, and so Israel's Mossad conducted remote-control demolition and New York Times just published 19 photographs of random people many are known (by BBC) to have been abroad at the time [3]. I am too well-aware of United States Government's penchant to lie and fabricate all manner of things for global hegemonic priorities. And so I consider my own strong convictions regarding universal natural rights are much more serious and important than the deceptive and manipulative and cynical use of 'human rights' by the United States Government. The Gulf Of Tonkin incident was self-injury by American military to begin an invasion of Vietnam. United States is extremely aggressive and begins military conflicts without concern for natural rights routinely since 1945. The death toll by United States military interventions is roughly 20 million since 1945, and that's a serious fraction above global criminal homicides during the same period. So I am much more serious about my natural rights security convictions than the American Government.

The American people are a different story. Around 47% believe that for US Foreign Policy universal human rights is very important. Add the 44% who say it is 'somewhat important' and you get 91%. So technically I am in agreement with 47% of Americans about the importance of universal natural rights security.

What I am facing however is a difference between this 91% population support for natural rights security and the behaviour of the United States Government when my natural rights are egregiously violated by Bill Gates. The government is neither respecting the US Declaration of Independence Preamble in this case, which puts legitimacy of the nation at risk; neither is the government in line with 91% of American people's political consensus. And these are grave issues, because another study shows that majority of Americans believe that United States Government serves the interests of a minority.

I am not a senior officer of United States Government, so I don't really worry too much about all this. From my point of view, unless the United States Government conforms to natural rights security purpose written into the foundational documents of this country, we don't need the United States of America to exist at all. I don't give a damn about 'loyalty expectations'. I have my Conscience and I know what is the right answer and don't need to sway with the winds on these issues.

5. THE VALUE OF NATURAL RIGHTS

The founders of America, and especially Thomas Jefferson who was the primary writer of the US Declaration of Independence Preamble, and revised by others including Benjamin Franklin, were able to extend the earlier ideas of John Locke.

We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator certain inalienable rights, that among them are Life, Liberty, and pursuit of Happiness, and governments are instituted among men to secure these rights.

In 1776 the founders of America were not able to fully implement these as the conditions of the world were different. But it is profoundly clear that these are right much more generally than they had any ability to verify. I, personally, have examined the genetic code in common,  $G_c$ , that is 99.9% of every human being's genome, and can firmly conclude that equality is not a hope or a speculation or an imposition, but that at conception, every fetus is equal to every other fetus interchangably with a variation of at most 0.1% of the letters. This estimate was established strongly in molecular genetics of human beings in the past two decades. And this is the genetic basis of equality of all men. This means of course all men born on Earth and not just all American men or all white men, and so on. This is extremely clear from studies in molecular genetics. And this is one of the clearest firm bases of the sort of equality that is scientifically strongly valid for all people of all ethnicities on Earth.

Now I happen to believe that Classical Liberalism has flaws in focus on individual rights alone rather than a broader understanding of rights, but the sacrosanctness of my own Life, Liberty and pursuit of Happiness obviously precedes the existence of the United States of America. This is clear from the US Declaration of Independence Preamble. The logical implication is that the United States Government is not legitimate at all if it fails to secure natural rights of all Americans because securing natural rights is the purpose of government.

Note that no schools of thought can deform my view. The explicit wording of the US Declaration of Independence does not allow for ambiguity. It does not say, for example, that "natural rights of all people are sacrosanct" depending on how the senior people of United States Government feels at their discretion. No government official is given any discretion to allow natural rights violation of any American at all, for pragmatic, commercial, racial, ethnic, geopolitical or any other reason.

I mention these things because they are very clear to me, and seems not so clear to everyone in US Industry and Government. Their views, if they differ from mine is not "that's just your opinion" but totally wrong.

6. REINFORCEMENT OF UNIVERSAL NATURAL RIGHTS PRECEDED NATIONS

Let me reinforce this view because it is not clear enough to people generally who are distracted by many other issues. The natural rights of Life, Liberty, and pursuit of Happiness, are in United Stated political philosophy that is written into the foundational charter of the country, are Creator-endowed and precedes the existence of the nation. That is the rationale given by Thomas Jefferson for existence of governments. The logical order of the Preamble of the US Declaration of Independence is not cosmetic. First, we accept all men are created equal. Then we accept that inalienable rights for all men and women are Creator-granted. These propositions hold for all people everywhere on the world. We, Americans, in the US Declaration, hold these truths to be self-evident.

I personally have extremely strong convictions of their truth regardless of religions. For example Creator can be translated to Nature and you are Christian-Jewish-Islamic independent. The US Constitutional Amendments ensure that the nation itself will not establish a state religion, so Creator does not imply a state religion. But what it does imply is that it is not the state that grants the natural rights of Life, Liberty and pursuit of Happiness. No other people grant these rights. The mom and dad do not grant these rights. The Whites-Are-Superior Club of Bill Gates do not grant these rights. Governments, according to canonical American political philosophy, and especially our own American Government, are instituted among men to secure these natural rights of all people. That is the sole and only purpose of our government. Our government does not believe that blond blue-eyed people are unequal to dark haired dark skinned people by its fundamental Preamble of US Declaration of Independence. And that is good, because blond blue-eyed people are equal to dark-skinned dark eyed people by their genetic code differing by at most 0.1% of letters. I have heard Bill Gates repeat "Whites Are Superior" for more than a year nonstop day and night after he cut into my Personal Meta with efforts to harm me. His repeating this stupid mantra changes nothing. He personally will not be able to out-superior me. He's not as intellectually gifted as I am. But he is too illiterate and hick and un-intelligent to appreciate the fine aspects of universal unity of the human race. He is confused, does not understand the evidence that is known that all human beings evolved in East Africa, and we were a single metatribe, and around 75,000 years ago dispersion produced all Civilisations. He is too dull to understand that pale skin evolved no more than 8500 years ago by our best scientific consensus. He has a lot of work to do to prove his mantra "Whites Are Superior". What is his story exactly? That although we are from the same metatribe, 8500 years ago our paler skinned brethren evolved the 'superiority gene' all by themselves? If that were so, then why did the darker-skinned brothers in Mesopotamia invent Civilisation first? Huh?

7. BILL GATES YOU CANNOT INVENT FAKE HISTORY AND RULE THE WORLD OKAY?

I could do the same thing you're doing too. I could have said "Indians are superior and Indians invented Civilisation." That's closer to the truth than your "Whites are superior and Hammurabi was white". But I don't do that because I am not an illiterate moron who thinks 'scientific theories are arbitrary'.

Let's go over this again because you cannot really make up and fabricate history even if you are an illiterate malevolent stupid megalomaniac with $131 billion and shark tanks in your living room.

Let's take a consensus view of National Geographic, you know it, don't you? Nice nature photographs and all?

"The earliest civilizations developed between 4000 and 3000 BCE, when the rise of agriculture and trade allowed people to have surplus food and economic stability. Many people no longer had to practice farming, allowing a diverse array of professions and interests to flourish in a relatively confined area.

Civilizations first appeared in Mesopotamia (what is now Iraq) and later in Egypt. Civilizations thrived in the Indus Valley by about 2500 BCE, in China by about 1500 BCE and in Central America (what is now Mexico) by about 1200 BCE. Civilizations ultimately developed on every continent except Antarctica." [4].

You let's see the map to give you a sense of things. I am Aryan in ethnicity with Vedic ancestors for three thousand years. I was born in Bengal in 1973.

So you draw line to Bengal from Indus Valley and that's a Civilisation from 2600-1900 BC. It's not the first, and Mesopotamians (descendents Syrians and Iraqi) had Civilisation from 4200 BC. Now Britain was not even literate when Julius Caesar conquered starting 55-54 BC. What did British look like then?

How are you going to pull off this 'whites are superior shenanigans' against Zulfikar Moinuddin Ahmed. By 1900 BC Indus Valley already had urban civilisation you stupid fuck. Where did you learn your history exactly? The College-Dropout's Delusional Remedial School of Podunk Hick Boondocks of the Pacific Northwest Frontier?

Look, I am American, and I do not believe in ethnic tribal ra ra. I believe that all men everywhere on Earth are created equal and that we are all entitled to have our natural rights of Life, Liberty and pursuit of Happiness secured. But I will not put up with total rubbish of invented history by hick podunk illiterate riffraff. European history with actual Civilisation begins long after Asia, with Myceneans in Greece and that's around 1200 BC. In terms of Civilisational age Europe is relatively new. Now I like Europeans. They are less outrageously stupid about basic matter of history of people of Earth than many people in America. But people like yourself, Bill Gates, are just extremely ignorant, barbaric, savage and stupid. Your ostentation of Xanadu 2.0 fools no one.

8. BILL GATES BELIEVES HE IS IN A WAR TO EXTINCT NON-WHITES

I had no idea about the mental delusions of narcissistic megalomaniac Bill Gates in 2019 when I was just trying to get back on my feet by getting compensated for my R & D for Medium Frequency Alpha Strategy that I worked on for several years. I tried to get incubated at some hedge funds and later found D. E. Shaw & Co. had 'found it in the wild' and began trading it. Anyway, I was trying to make a living and fulfill my American Dream. I gave Bill Gates – in meta– ideas for making some money by putting money in with D. E. Shaw. He proceeded to deny me all income and then invade my deep interior and blood meta against American laws with attempts to establish the outrageously savage, barbaric, murderous principle that the white right to kill non-whites is sacrosanct. I am badly hurt by War Crimes level harm that United Nations Human Rights is investigating. He feels that he has right to do these things with conviction. He blockaded $620 million in legitimate earnings from Finance for me, harmed my health, and blockaded tenure considers both at Harvard and Stanford.

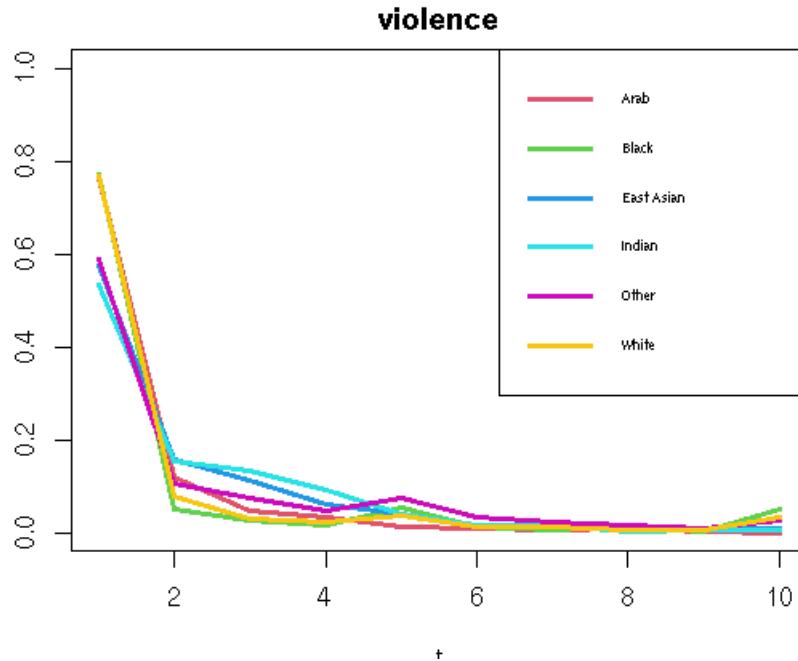

I will obviously do what I have to secure my own natural rights including nixing the entire United States of America if necessary. But if United States of America disappears from existence, it is not because I made the wrong decisions here. I am totally astounded that a savage barbaric malevolent genocide plotting war criminal such as this Bill Gates had not been eliminated by lethal military force by our government decades ago. Why would the United States Government leave such a cat to terrorise and harm the American people?

9. RETURN TO THE ISSUE OF SINGLE HUMAN RACE

It is known that human beings evolved for roughly 7-8 million years in East Africa before dispersion around the world around 75,000 years ago. There were some competing theories of human origins that were eventually totally falsified and this basic theory became highly established. We were a single meta-tribe in East Africa 75,000 years ago. Studies in human genetic diversity has confirmed that the total variation even letter by letter of our genetic code takes place in 0.1% of the letters. Therefore there is very little doubt that despite variations of Civilisational progress in the past 20,000 years, we are a single race, and a single people.

I personally have devoted enormous effort to examine and discover highly reproducible results that show that for most moral value propositions (in World Values Survey) there is a remarkable regularity across the globe.

I will show you just one example here and the rest are similar.

These are overlapping probability distributions for "Violence is justified against others" from 1=Never to 10=Always.

The percentage of variation explained by ethnicity is roughly 6.5-9.5% across many moral values. This is extremely low variation, and therefore we must reject any ideas of moral superiority of any ethnicity over any others as invalid. These are serious and revolutionary advances in scientific knowledge and they point to universal human moral nature that is much more influenced by common genetic heritage than by other sorts of theories such as ethnic superiority.

No one who is serious about truth of Nature can ignore my results here, and they totally sabotage efforts like that of Bill Gates to establish white superiority theories. He is a total dipshit idiot without any intellectual ability at all that is particularly good. He may have had some skill with electronics of 1970s but that's not very impressive to me. He is illiterate and has opinions that are totally outrageously out of line with norms of modern American and World Civilisation.

10. UNITED STATES OF AMERICAN GOVERNMENT OUGHT TO BE DELEGITIMISED IF THEY CONTINUE TO DO NOTHING

Bill Gates exercise of illegitimate powers against my person and Body by use of US War Power to damage my Exoskeleton and then use of US Industrial Power to harm my actual Flesh with European Black Magic Powers was against United States and International Laws and even violated laws for treatment of Prisoners of War by Geneva Convention. I am quite aware of this and will seek international support to totally delegitimise the United States altogether if US Government continues to now know Bill Gates modus operandi for his crimes, which is to repeat 'really? really?' and continue without skipping a beat to harm me.

The right solution was to destroy him physically with ordinary military lethal force a year ago. I do not believe United States of America ought to exist at all if the government is not able to make elementary decisions about neutralising a War Criminal who has already professed genocidal conspiracy. It is up to you, United States Government if you think Zulfikar Moinuddin Ahmed does not have enough ability to nix the United States of America, but your purpose was to safeguard my natural rights. You want to play global chessboard with Zulf, you will be toasted fair and square. You better show some sense and rationality soon. I am infinitely better at global chessboard than anyone in Defense or State here or indeed anyone in Moscow. You want to play? Go ahead and make my day.

11. UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT YOUR MOVE OR MINE?

Are you really ready for this, United States Government? There's no tears if you lose the nation.

Let me show you something okay?

WITH A NEW INTRODUCTION BY JOHN J. MEARSHEIMER

FEBRUARY 28 2022 1:36 AM ZULFIKAR MOINUDDIN AHMED ASSESSES HABITUATION AS THE MOST NONTRIVIAL PART

Did you read it? I mean I know you can't read and understand US Declaration of Independence Preamble, but one can still hope that you actually read George F. Kennan.

NEW YORK TIMES BEST SELLER

"A clear-eyed, sharp-tongued assessment of this hinge moment in time, when the world's center of gravity is shifting 'from the West to the East.'"

—MICHIKO KAKUTANI, New York Times

Strategic Vision

America and the Crisis of Global Pow

Zbigniew

Brzezinski

Did you read this one? He's dead now. What are you going to do?

Let's start this shall we? I have already proposed my Natural Rights World Order at the United Nations. How far do you think you can go before I nix you altogether?

I asked you nicely to totally destroy the War Criminal Bill Gates but you seem to be a little too realist-realist. Fine with me. You want to play, we'll play. Don't go crying to your mommy when the nation is gone.

12. AFTER I AM DONE WITH YOU UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT THE ENTIRE NATION WILL BE WORTH THREE DIMES AND A SODA POP

You have not only aided, abetted, given protection to, and supported a war criminal on your watch, but you illegally humiliated and incarcerated me, an American, with FBI storming my home and insulting and humiliating me in front of my family members and telling them that I will face jail time with frivolous charges. And I am extremely badly harmed by Bill Gates. I will push this all the way to International Arena where your legitimacy will be totally destroyed.

Add three dimes to the following to estimate the worth of the United States of America after I am done with you.

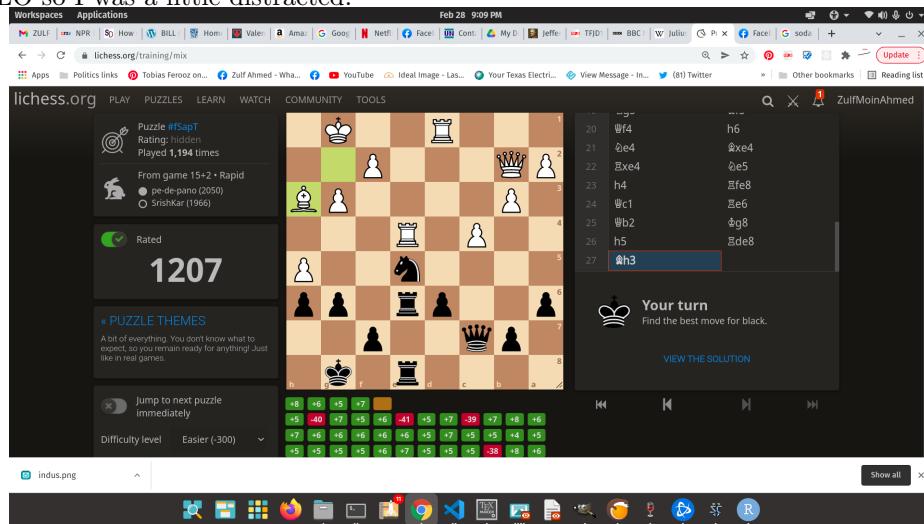

Let me repeat the issues involved. You will be charged with colluding with a war criminal against your own people because my record is squeaky clean and I was not actually in the know that you are totally corrupted by ultra-Nazi Racial Order cronies of Bill Gates.

Let us then begin with a game of Global Chessboard, shall we?

You could of course not be corrupted by White Racial Order goons and simply follow the Multi-Ethnic Classical Democratic Republic devoted to Universal Natural Rights Security to end risk of extinction. But I suspect that you will think that being corrupt is not so risky. And that is where Zulfikar Moinuddin Ahmed comes in.

13. YOU'RE LUCKY UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT

Today, you're lucky. I was about to snuff out your entire Global Chessboard Game right away. But unfortunately I was embarrassed by my low ELO rating in lichess.org. I did some practice to inch past their 1207. I should be higher in actual ELO so I was a little distracted.

But you're going to be toast on the real Global Chessboard soon enough. Get ready for totally losing legitimacy of the entire nation by a man whose actual chess rating is not all that great right now.

14. A GOOD ELO RATING IS NOT NECESSARY AT ALL TO WIN ON GLOBAL CHESSBOARD

Fine, I am not an avid chess player and so I don't have a respectable ELO Rating yet. However, a great ELO Rating is not required to win on the Global Chessboard at all.

Let me explain. This miserable wretched disgusting son of a bitch, Bill Gates had randomly and illegitimately applied huge amounts of US War Power and US Industrial Power and European Black Magic Power to not only invade my Blood Meta and destroy my Ethnic Meta after breaking Geneva Convention rules using US War Power against my body, but admitted directly in meta to US Government that he was plotting Genocide of nonwhites in America, and refuses to take his hard meta and other illegitimate evil power contraptions from my Deep Interior, siphoning my Personal Life blood like a Vampyre apparently to use it to power industry, which are all War Crimes being investigated now by UN Human Rights Council and on which United States has no jurisdiction (since War Crimes are in International Jurisdiction), and these miserable pathetic United States Government officials are being total morons by not destroying the War Criminal even at the risk of going against the fundamental charter of the nation – as US Declaration of Independence Preamble is part of the US Constitution – bending backward to value this miserable lifelong charlatan who says "natural rights are claptrap" and has had lifelong dreams of being the Tyrannical Monarch of the entire world. While I have legitimate papers.

American people polled in 2002 had 47% say that Universal Human Rights are 'very important' and 44% 'somewhat important'. And these morons in the United States Government think they will just look the other way while Bill Gates continues to harm me breaking all United States and International Law and I will allow the United States of America to continue to exist in this state. They are deluded, most deluded. I will obviously nix the country totally unless they provide reason to keep it around.

My ELO rating might be mediocre in actual chess at the moment but I am quite able to best the United States Government on a one-on-one game of Geopolitical Chess.

What is the difference? Well for high ELO rating you need to reduce errors on elementary moves. And in Geopolitical Chess, the issues are a bit different. There parties with power, like the United States continuously push to break all international and civilisational laws with the 'realist geopolitical' idea that in the end they will be fine if they can propaganda their goodness after the murders and mayhem is done. This sort of thing works for someone else, mother fuckers. Zulfikar Moinuddin Ahmed is a great immortal genius and I have convictions about Universal Natural Rights, so I will fry you in Olive Oil in the International Circuits till you are so finely fried that no one will ever remember what happened to the little nation state called United States of America, you understand? You want to mess with Zulf, you will pay for your insolence.

15. THE GLOBAL DREAM

I already have an alternative to the American Dream, which is worth formulating. It's that all people everywhere ought to have their natural rights secured and all people everywhere ought to have unobstructed path to health, wealth, and happiness whether the United States Government likes it or not, and we want all War Criminals like Bill Gates totally destroyed.

I was pursuing my American Dream perfectly legitimately till I learned that United States Government will not intervene when I am assaulted by totally criminal murderous manner by this Bill Gates and value his 'interests', as though his interests were anything but murder and crime and swindling and conning people and plotting genocide while lying about his SAT score and his 'great genius' which never existed. You want to value War Criminals over Zulfikar Moinuddin Ahmed, a legitimate American who followed laws and trusted the US Declaration of Independence Preamble, do you now? Well you can do that in the Other Side of Nonexistence punk kids.
